Academic And Professional Writing Writing

Academic writing, or scholarly writing is a prose style. Normally delivered in an impersonal and dispassionate tone, it is targeted at a critical and informed audience, based on closely investigated knowledge; and intended to reinforce or challenge concepts or arguments. It usually circulates within the academic world ('the academy').

How is academic writing different to other kinds of writing? In some ways, writing at university (i.e. academic writing) is similar to other styles of writing - e.g. business or professional writing. For example, academic writing is generally quite formal and impersonal. It is formal by avoiding casual or 'conversational' language, such as contractions or informal vocabulary.
