Lyman Hall was born and grew up in a Connecticut Congregationalist community. He studied theology at Yale College, graduating in 1747. Following two years of study under his uncle, Rev. Samuel Hall, Lyman was ordained into the Congregational ministry in 1749 and accepted a position in a church in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

Lyman Hall - About North Georgia

The history of early Georgia is largely the history of the Creek Indians. For most of Georgia's colonial period, Creeks outnumbered both European colonists and enslaved Africans and occupied more land than these newcomers. Not until the 1760s did the Creeks become a minority population in Georgia.
