I put the entrance in the 16-1/4" face so that when you have the trap loaded the frames are right behind the entrance, making it a less likely for birds to build nests in the traps.. I have not had a bird take up residence yet. Many of the other swarm traps I have seen described on the internet require that nails be placed across the opening, I don't feel this is necessary.

Malthusianism is the idea that population growth is potentially exponential while the growth of the food supply is linear. It derives from the political and economic thought of the Reverend Thomas Robert Malthus, as laid out in his 1798 writings, An Essay on the Principle of Population. Malthus believed there were two types of "checks" that in all times and places kept population growth in line ...
