I consider "Principles of Macroeconomics" to be a freshman level, non-major textbook. It uses little math, but describes key concepts in simple to understand language. For example, Mankiw describes the effect of trading operations at the Federal Reserve through an analogy to helicopters dropping cash into urban areas.

This paper examines the optimal allocation of risk in an overlapping-generations economy. It compares the allocation of risk the economy reaches naturally to the allocation that would be reached if generations behind a Rawlsian "veil of ignorance" could share risk with one another through complete Arrow-Debreu contingent-claims markets.
