insulin load... the greatest thing since carb counting? In previous articles I have outlined the idea of the insulin load [1] [2] which is similar to carbohydrate counting, but also accounts for the effect of protein, fibre and fructose..  $\text{insulin load} = \text{total carbohydrates} - \text{fibre} + 0.56 \times \text{protein}$  . show me the data! Most people understand that dietary carbohydrate is the primary nutrient ...

Everyone assumes that directors and writers get to decide what goes into a movie, but a lot of times the movie star is the most powerful person involved with a project. For instance, when Jim Carrey wanted to make a movie about his favorite number, The Number 23 hit theaters across the country. A much more entertaining abuse of this star power occu
