Edible Geography: What goes into planning the route for a smell walk?. Victoria Henshaw: The funny thing with smell walks is that you can always find interesting places within a stone's throw, wherever you are. I've done quite a few of them now — for my PhD, I did fifty-two smell walks in Doncaster, and since then I've done quite a few in a number of different cities, including one in ...

Traditionally burghs have been the key unit of the local government of Scotland, being highly autonomous entities, with rights to representation in the old Parliament of Scotland. Even after the Acts of Union 1707, burghs continued to be the principal subdivision. Until 1889 administration was on a burgh and parish basis.. The years following 1889 saw the introduction of a hierarchy of local ...

Bahrain was the central location of the ancient Dilmun civilization. Bahrain's strategic location in the Persian Gulf has brought rule and influence from mostly the Persians, Sumerians, Assyrians, Babylonians, Portuguese, the Arabs, and the British. Whilst the country had closest economic relations with Indians or South Asians for the longest time, much more than the Arabs themselves.
